Dear Paul,

Thanks for yours of the 3rd with enclosures.

The numbers you give me are known as f-stop numbers and relate to the aperture size. They should go considerably lower than f8.

It now looks as though WHITEWASH III will be late because of time taken taken by appearances (just back from another week away) and continuing and fruitful researches, which will make it a much bigger book.

Also, I'm going to do a Manchester book and have a fourth of it already drafted.

The other man is a friend of Matt Heron.

Interesting, that B&H December 7 press release, because it is not until 12/12 that the papers were drafted. I have them but not the press release and picture.

The opinion I get on the call-in radio programs continues to show the trend of public attitudes expressed is against the government, as is the majority.

Regards to you all,
